

Integrating the FAN Into Your Supervision

*October 23, 2025
9 am to 2 pm (CT)*

Speaker: Jamie Bahm, MS

This immersive training experience is designed to help participants understand and integrate the FAN model of reflective practice into their approach to supervision.

The training will introduce a blended supervision approach that combines administrative supervision with reflective supervision, emphasizing the importance of relationships and reflective practices in enhancing the supervisory process.

Participants will also explore specific components of the FAN framework, examining how each element relates to effective and supportive supervision.

Registration is $50

Session held virtually via Zoom
